WHY DO WE LIVE

A Short Sermon on the Ups and Downs of Human Existence.

The text of my sermon to-day will not be found within the covers of any book. It is taken from the great volume of life, and was suggested by a family of traveling mendicants singing "Call Me Back Again" beneath my office window, their cracked voices accompanied by the discordant notes of a dilapidated accordeon, whose musical mechanism was sadly in need of a liberal application of wagon grease, or some other lubricating material. The family consisted of a man and woman, a girl nearly grown, and three small children, one of which was wheeled in a baby carriage.

A glance at the members of this family, who travel from place to place, begging the means which enables them to drag out a miserable existence, led to the inquiry, "Why do we live?" If anyone can tell why such people live, or what serviceable niche they occupy in the economy of life, he will confer a kindness on his pessimistic brothers by enlightening them on the subject. Homeless wanderers they are, going among the homes of happy and prosperous people, begging means to sustain lives that are not worth living. What happiness can there be for them? Why, their very misery must be increased by contrast of their own condition with the condition of those who give them alms.

And what are the causes which produce such a vast difference in the condition of individuals? Why is one man a millionaire and another man a pauper? Is the reason to be found in our system of civilization, or does the cause lie in the individuals themselves? An examination of the records of men's lives will show the latter to be the case. Those who have succeeded in accumulating wealth have, in nine cases out of ten, been industrious and frugal all their lives, besides being gifted by nature with a shrewd business sense which enabled them to recognize a good opportunity when it presented itself. On the other hand, the men who live from hand to mouth all their days are either indolent and shiftless, or they squander their earnings on trifles instead of investing it in land or other property that will increase in value as the years roll by.

There is absolutely no excuse for any man to remain poor in this country if he desires to secure a competency. In Montana there is scarcely a wage carner who does not earn more each month than is required for the support of himself and family. If the surplus were laid by, it would be but a short time until it would amount to a sum sufficient to buy a lot in any city in the state. And there is nocity in the state where town lots will not be more valuable in the future than they are to-day. If the workingmen of Butte will look about them they will find that the solid men of the city owe their wealth, in a majority of instances, to the increase of real estate values since their property came into their possession. The same is true of every town in the state, and all experience teaches that town lot investments are among the surest and most remunerative that can be made.

Among Montana cities, the one which at present offers the greatest inducements for the investment of capital in town property is Bozeman. It is best, because property values there are lower than in any other city of its size in the state. It is best, because the resources of Bozeman are as permanent and secure as the fertile soil of the magnificent valley of which it is the entrepot. It is best, because the city is just entering upon a new era of growth and improvement, which is sure to raise the value of real estate, and those who purchase now will benefit by the rise. It is best, because the people of Montana are going to locate the permanent seat of government at Bozeman, and that will give an unprecedented impetus to business of all kinds; and the fortunate possessors of town lots will see their property double in value as soon as the result of the election is announced.

The West Side Addition

To Bozeman is the best place to buy, because it is the choice residence part of the city: because it is near the electric street railway, and is within easy reach of the court house, the postoffice and the new high school building, which is being creeted at a cost of $60,000; because the addition consists of choice lots throughout, every one of which has a water right conveyed with the land; because the property is far removed from swamps, and when thickly settled its sanitary conditions will always remain excellent; because the terms on which the property is offered for sale are so easy that any workingman can secure lots without discommoding himself or family.

AWAITING THEIR TRIALS

Miners From the Coeur d'Alenes in the City Jail at Boise.

TO DEFEND THE PRISONERS

A Noted Criminal Lawyer Will Plead in Their Behalf-Troops Returning to Their Posts.

Special Dispatch to the Standard. Boise, Idaho, July 27.-The 25 prisoners were brought down from Wallace and Wardner were put in the city jail here to await action of the federal action. Most of them will be held under nine separate counts, as it is at the option of the federal court as to punishment and also whether they will be admitted to bail or not, and their offenses are reported most serious by Judge Beatty. Pat Reddit of San Francisco, a noted criminal lawyer, is here in the interests of the prisoners, and will make a strong fight in their behalf. Joseph Pinkham, United States marshal, has received a telegram from W. B. Heyburn to come to the Cocur d'Alenes at once, but he will not leave till the first of next week.

Governor Willey said to-day that martial law would not be continued in Shoshone county many days longer. It will not last er than Aug. 1. Several companies of state troops will remain there about a month longer, as General Curtis wired Governor Willey to-day that they would be needed that long. Curtis also wrote a strong letter to President Harrison urging that a small camp of regular soldiers be established at some point in the Cocur d'Alenes, at least till Jan. 1 of next year. Probably a permanent camp will be made there. The question of what to do next is now staring the authorities in the face. Governor Willey said to-day that the work of reconstruction in Shoshone county was more serious than putting down the riots. He is making haste slowly, as he doesn't wish to make mistakes. The trouble in the Coeur d'Alenes is by no means over, is his idea, and the wisest management will be required to adjust matters.

There are still left in the Coeur d'Alenes thirteen companies of regulars. One Allison, a detective, went into prison No. 3 to-day, and for some reason pulled his gun. The prisoners requested that he be arrested. Only one arrest and a very few releases have been made to-day. Wm Tarlton, who just arrived from Arizona. was arrested by the military on suspicion CHOLERA SPREADING. Efforts to Prevent the Spread of the Disease.

VIENNA, July 27 .- The preventative measures ordered enforced in Eastern Russia have not been executed, owing to the prevailing panic, although cholera has appeared at Ekaterino, Stay, Odessa and other places. Hon, Mr. Nawahi argued against the cession, and wanted to know what influenced the change of Wilcox's mind. He thought America might break the contracts about Pearl Harbor as easily as she broke faith

ANARCHISTIC IDEAS. Rumors That the Carnegie Mills May Be Blown Up.

Cricago, July 27.—A Homestead special says: It is evident that the Carnegie company will be able to operate their mills under the protection of militia, but there are other means of fighting, according to a member of the advisory committee, who said: "We will not, under any circumstances, permit those mills to run if there is any agency which may be employed to prevent it. We have already selected men who will go into these mills as fast as they can'secure employment, who are instructed and sworn to carry out orders in consum-mating a policy which we have agreed upon. When we are sure there is no longer any hope for us, our representative in the mills will place explosives where they will do the most harm to the machinery.

"We have definitely determined that these mills shall not be operated by nonunion men, and one of the principal ways o prevent it is either to control or wreel the property. I might say a great deal more, but under the circumstances, I have gone as far as I dare."

Hot Weather Causes Many Fatalities in Chicago.

APPALLING DEATH RECORD

Fifty Succumb to the Dreadful Heat - Reports From Other Cities of the CRICAGO, July 27.—The slaughter by the sun was still on in Chicago to-day, 50 deaths and more than twice as many prostrations from heat occurring. Although there is now in a prediction of a cold wave the possibility of relief, it is certain the number of deaths will be largely increased during the next few days. The hospitals are filled with patients suffering from sunstroke, many of whom cannot possibly recover. The record of yesterday, which surpassed anything in the number of deaths and prostrations from heat that the city has ever known, was eclipsed by the awful work of the sun to-day. The temperature ranged in the shade from 92 to 94, and, as for days past, the wind was from the south and blistering hot. The majority of the casualties were among the laboring men and in the portions of the city occupied by the poorer classes.

The number of horses which were sunstruck and caused temporary blockades of the crowded thoroughfares, could hardly be counted. There were not enough of horses in the police department to carry off the animals which fell during the day in and about the business centre of the city alone, and it was found necessary to call in outside belp, for the ambulances and the patrol wagons had all they could do to care for human beings. The police were the most overworked body of men in the city to-day, being on the jump from early morning until nearly midnight, and so severe was the work several officers were prostrated. At the various hospitals the entire staff of physicians was kept busy all day and evening and there was hardly enough help.

HUDSON, Wis., July 27.—A most fearful wind and rain storm visited this section last night, lasting all mght. It was almost a cloud burst. Cellars were flooded with much damage to goods. Crops are almost a total loss in the surrounding country and much stock was killed by lightning. Advices from other points in the state say J. Warren, near Richmond, was killed by lightning. All trains are delayed.

Cellars Flooded.

St. Paul, July 27 .- The drenching rain torm which began last evening lasted till this morning. It demoralized street traffic and has not all been restored yet. Cellars are flooded, sidewalks torn away and streets torn up. For the 24 hours ending at 4 a. m. the aggregate rain fall was nearly eight inches in Minneapolis and nearly five inches here.

JOHNSON'S PLANT. What Detective Rhodes Found in a Chi-

BUTTE, July 27.—This forenoon a pris-oner named Johnson was released from the county jail, where he finished a double term, one for vagrancy, and the other for petty larceny. While serving his first sentence Johnson was given the privileges of a trusty and took advantage of the liberty accorded him to steal a jug of whiskey from Sheriff Lloyd. For this he was arrested and sent up for 30 days. At 10 o'clock this morning he was discharged and in a few hours afterward he was heard to tell a pal about a "plant" of razors and jewelry that he had at a Chinese restaurant, but which he could not get because of the refusal of the Chinaman to give it to him, and added that he was "afraid to make a row, as the Chinamen were onto him." Detective Rhodes took the case in hand, and soon induced the Chinamen to give up the plunder, which was found to consist of a case of 18 sample razors and a variety of scarf pins. Johnson was then arrested and put back in jatt. The goods were stolen last May at Missouia from a traveling man named Batty, and for the robbery of which Tom Dacey was arrested here some time ago and taken back to Missoula for trial. The Missouth authorities have been notified of the recovery of the goods and of Johnson's arrest, who will be held until the arrival of an officer. o'clock this morning he was discharged

ALICE MITCHELL TESTIFIES.

The Slayer of Freda Ward Testifies Before the Court.

MEMPHIS, July 27.—In the trial of Alice Mitchell for the murder of Freda Ward, the defendant took the stand in her own defense and told a story of the killing substantially as heretofore rehearsed. She admitted her infatuation for Freda, and said twice before she had tried to kill her, but was prevented once by the razor sticking in her pocket, and once by the publicity of the place in which she found her. She told of her intended marriage to Freda and how she expected to raise moustache by shaving. She declared she used to like Miss Joe Ward, Freda's sister, till she went on the stand and swore a lot of lies about her. Now it would not be safe for Miss Joe to thrust herself in witness' power. Miss Mitchell occasionally gave evidence of the loss of some of her heretofore remarkable self-possession.

AT ST. JOHNS.

Military Retained to Keep Order in the Fire-stricken District.

HALIFAX, July 27.—The latest informa-tion from St. Johns, N. F., states that the militia still parade the streets to maintain order and prevent incendiarism, which has been attempted. The condition of the poor in the unburned section is worse than those burned, as they are without means of subsistence and can get none of the relief contributions. They are actually trying to burn their few belongings, so as to get help. Seven thousand persons are encamped on a large field. Housing is the worst feature at present, as there is no want of clothing or food. The coming fall and winter will, it is feared, realize the famine that succeeds

In View of Dress Reform

If women are to discard corsets and genuinely seek dress reform, the only thing for them to do in order to preserve the lines of grace and beauty is to adopt the flowing garments of the Greek and Ro-man women of old. Put a Venus de Milo in a perfectly fitting Redfern or Worth gown and there is no denying the fact that she would look uncommonly ugly, despite the grand lines of the head and the present style of fitted garments continues, a moderately tight pair of stays will undoubte by improve the figure. In fact they are really essential, and a wo-man without them looks shapeless and ugly. What dress reformers ought to do, therefore, is not to try to follow the fashions

-there they are manifestly at a disadvantage—they should lead an allogether new movement and introduce instead of the divided skirt, the unlovely jacket and the fitted waist with the necessary flat, shapeless seams that would require the figure of a goldess, the womanly and beautiful garments of the ancients. That these might become popular even in modera days is proved by the Parisian fashions in the time of the first empire, when the short-waisted gowns were so greatly in vogue—a frivoious adaptation of the noble Greek drapery, it is true, but it had undoubtedly a "chie" and grace ali its own, and at all events it give the figure tage-they should lead an altogether new undoubtedly a "chie" and grace all its own, and at all events it gave the figure the intrammeled freedom that we see in the garments of the classical period.—New York Tribune.

AFTER THEIR SCALPS

Indians on the Colville Reserve Hunting for Intruders.

SERIOUS TROUBLE FEARED

Miners and Prospectors Hiding in the Hills-Awaiting the Issu-ance of the President's Proclamation.

SPOKANE, July 27.-Arrivals to-day from Marcus and other points in Stevens county say the situation at Colville reservation has assumed a very serious aspect during the last three days. The Indian police are busy watching the frontier, but prospectors and boomers constantly manage to evade their vigilance and get into the hills of the reservation. There is an old chief named Major who has become so worked up over the trespassers that he is inciting his followers to make war upon the whites: 50 or 60 young bucks have now associated themselves together for this object and threaten to kill anybody they find on the land.

Two prospectors were discovered in the bills just opposite Marcus and narrowly escaped with their lives. The Indians stoned them and one was badly injured. There is still a large number of miners on the reservation who have thus far escaped detection. The Indians say there are nearly 100 white men in the hills, and that if they catch any of them they will surely scalp them. Everybody is anxiously awaiting the president's proclamation. The boomers are still concentrating at Marcus and along the boundary line.

Taylor started to build a fence in order to shut Cornelius out, but Cornelius countered by building a fence that completely blocked the one started by Taylor. Then Taylor had the crew of the Minnie arrested. The case was dismissed by Judge Race. It is hardly probable that anything more will be done.

Just before the engine reached her, sho drew her blanket over her head and threw herself on the track. The engine was reversed but could not be stopped before the forward truck had passed over her, crushing her head and one side of her body. She was dead when picked up.
